

Post-Monsoon 2025 Rainfall

CDPC / Pakistan Meteorological Department

Highlights:

- During the year 2025, the country's rainfall was near average (-3%) observed.
- During post-monsoon season (OND) 2025, the country's rainfall was below average (19%), which was more or less similar over all provinces except Sindh received largely above average rainfall (+77%) during the period.
- During October 2025, the country's rainfall was largely above average with positive anomaly of (+53%). Similarly, Punjab with (+159), Sindh with (+123%) and AJK with (+56) observed Largely above average. In contrast, rainfall over Balochistan was well below average (-45%) and near average (-5%) over Gilgit-Baltistan.
- November 2025, country rainfall was largely below average with negative anomaly (-72%). Similarly, all the regions exhibited largely below average rainfall except Sindh with (+14), received slightly above average rainfall.
- In December 2025, the country's rainfall was significantly below average (-41%), which was more or less similar over all regions except Sindh which received largely above average rainfall (+48%).

